“

Following the session Esi delivered, we met with our Managing Director to discuss what changes we could make to improve the work and shopping environment for our staff, visitors, and customers and make us more inclusive.

The session highlighted issues we probably wouldn't have thought about ourselves and really made us examine whether we were doing everything we could to ensure everyone had a positive experience.

We are currently working on initiatives that include improving the accessibility of our website, store services, and staff and visitors.
